You may qualify for the following loan cancellation benefits, according to the terms of your promissory note: FULL-TIME TEACHER in a California public elementary or secondary school designated by the U.S. Secretary of Education as having a high concentration of low-income students, and in which more than 30 percent of the school's enrollment are Title I children, according to the list published annually in the Federal Register or designated by the State of California as a low-performing school. A "low-performing school" is a school in the bottom half of the Academic Performance Index rankings established pursuant to California Education Code Section 52056(a). If a school meets the Federal or State criteria at the time you are hired, continued employment at that school qualifies you for this benefit, even if the school improves its rank.

To Request Postponement of Repayment in Anticipation of Cancellation (please print or type): A request for Postponement of repayment in anticipation of Cancellation should be submitted when you are hired to teach in a qualifying school and at the beginning of each subsequent academic year you teach until your loan is cancelled in full. By providing the following information, your loan repayment will be postponed. Should you fail to submit the corresponding Request for Cancellation upon completion of a full year of teaching at a qualifying school, the postponed payments will become due and payable immediately.
