Meet Native Faculty & Staff
 Each Quarter we will introduce people on campus who are Native.

Adrian Dorris is Zuni Pueblo and Chicano mestizo, born and raised in San Diego, California. As a Native American/Chicano alumnus of UCSC, I bring with me a healthy critique of this institution as well as a deep-rooted appreciation for the unforgettable experiences I had at UCSC and the incredible people with whom I shared them. I came back because of my commitment to building healthy, vibrant, thoughtful and inspirational communities at UCSC and beyond.

American Indian Resource Center Affiliated Groups

SANAI Mission
 The Student Alliance of North American Indians' purpose is to promote and celebrate American Indian culture and identity; establish and maintain a strong sense of community among students, staff and faculty; increase awareness; recruit and retain native students and increase native student involvement.

American Indian, Alaskan Native and Native Hawaiian Alumni Affinity Group
 This Organization was formed under the leadership of the director of the American Indian Resource Center with the graduating class of 2003.
