LANGUAGE

- o Our words are not adequate for capturing the full complexity of genders and sexual experiences.
- o Hopefully the words used in this guide are clear, inclusive, and affirming, but if not, cross them out and write your own!
- o Heads up: body part words (vagina, cock, asshole, etc.) will be used.
- o This guide is for all trans people and their sexual partners, including those who identify as nonbinary, gender fluid, gender non-conforming, Two Spirit, genderqueer, men and women of trans experience, and all others with non-normative gender identities and/or experiences.

WHO NEEDS TO KNOW YOU'RE TRANS? AND WHEN? AND HOW?

DISCLOSURE

♡ Disclosure is your choice.

♡ Consider your physical + emotional safety when deciding with whom + how much to disclose. Can you leave the situation if necessary?

♡ Decide what questions you're willing to answer. This can vary with each situation.

♡ Disclosing before having sex is not necessary, but it may allow for healthy conversations about how sex can be safer + more affirming.

PARTS + NAMES

Some words we use for those sexy body parts:

Ask your partner(s):
"What do you like to call
this part?"

cunt, dick, cock, + dick,
pussy, frontal hole,
honeypot, bussy

vag, vagina,
vulva

CHEST
BREASTS
TITS

girl-dick, shenis,
bdy stick/wood, junk,
big dit, strapless

MAKE UP YOUR OWN:

TALKING ABOUT SAFER SEX ...

CONSENT:

MUTUAL,
ONGOING,
NON-COERCIVE

WAYS TO GET CONSENT:

"Can I ...?"

"Would you like to ...?"

"How would you feel if I ...?"

"Is this good for you?"

"Do you want me to keep going?"

BOUNDARIES:

INFORM PARTNER(S) WHAT
YOU WILL + WON'T DO

- talk before sex about STI/HIV status and protection needs
- be clear if you want to use a barrier or avoid fluid exchange
- set boundaries during foreplay so you can think more clearly
- be prepared to respect your partner(s)' boundaries

Substances & Sex

HAVING SEX WHILE DRUNK OR HIGH?
PLAN ACCORDINGLY.

- carry supplies (barriers, etc.) you want to use
- decide your limit in order to safely consent ahead of time

TRY NEW DRUGS
ON YOUR OWN BEFORE
DURING SEX!

POPPERS:

- [Nitrite liquids inhaled through the nose to create instant 2-5 min. high]
- increase anal pleasure by dilating blood vessels in ass

WEED:

- can increase anxiety + paranoia, so use with a trusted partner

- don't mix with erectile dysfunction or heart + blood pressure meds

HIV + STI PREVENTION

How often should you get tested?

Anyone having sex (including oral) should get tested between every few months to once a year, including poz folks (for other STIs).

Swab where you get fucked

Talk to your doctor about:

- PEP and PrEP: preventative HIV treatments
- discharges, itchiness, or unusual odors from genitals, throat, or ass
- vaccines against Hepatitis A + B and HPV

Have a cervix?
Get pap smears!

MYTH: Only semen creates an STI/HIV risk.
TRUTH: Sex of any kind has risks, so get tested regularly and use appropriate barriers.

TRANS-POSITIVE PORN + EROTICA

"Diversity in porn lets us find ourselves in the erotic landscape, proving we are ALL capable and deserving of love."

GOOD PORN

MYTH: Trans people on HRT are infertile/sterile.
TRUTH: Though these porn stars might sometimes go bareback, being on hormones does not mean pregnancy can't happen. HRT ≠ birth control.
