

Confronting the Coffee Crisis

Book Reading and Signing for the campus community

At the

BAY TREE BOOKSTORE

12:00 P.M. THURSDAY

MAY 15, 2008

Join us to celebrate
Confronting the Coffee Crisis (The MIT Press) with editors
Christopher M. Bacon,
Jonathan A. Fox, and
Stephen R. Gliessman

... economic, social, political, and ecological dimensions of development are interconnected and need to be understood and addressed simultaneously. ... Confronting the Coffee Crisis ... should become a standard reference for all concerned not only with the world of coffee but also with the broader challenge of inclusive development."

—Peter Utting, Deputy Director,
United Nations Research Institute for Social Development (UNRISD)

20%
off

Co-sponsors: The Bay Tree Bookstore, Chicano Latino Research Center (CLRC), El Centro-Chicano Latino Resource Center, Environmental Studies, Latin American and Latino Studies.

Light refreshments will be provided